

Project Initialization and Planning Phase

Date	12 August 2026
Project Name	AI Career Pulse: Decoding the Job Market

Define Problem Statements (Customer Problem Statement Template):

The Customer Problem Statement template below will help you to focus on the issues that are required to craft wonderful experiences for your customers. With a strong customer problem statement, you and your team have a greater chance of coming up with the best solution for your customer challenges. In addition, you will be able to empathize with the customer throughout the whole process, which will help you comprehend your own perspective on your product or service.

Problem Statement (PS)	Customer Problem Statement
PS-1
I am	A student and fresher about to enter the AI-related job market
I'm trying to	understand which AI-related career opportunities exist and what skills to acquire to be job-ready
But	I find it hard to identify what AI-related jobs are in demand, the skills needed for these positions, and the salary trends
Because	the AI job market is evolving, making it challenging to compare information on jobs, required skills, salaries, experience, and location
Which makes me feel	confused about what skills and career opportunities to pursue in my AI-related career
PS-2
I am	a student or fresher comparing various AI career opportunities
I'm trying to	analyze the differences between AI-related jobs in terms of salary, location, experience, skills, and opportunities

But	I am unable to compare the job market offerings for AI-related jobs
Because	the job market includes numerous roles, companies, skills, locations, and salary trends that must be compared in order to make an informed decision about one's career which makes me feel
Which makes me feel	unsure about the best career opportunities for my AI-related skills.
